Big cotton sale to Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sources in the Agriculture Department are speculating that President Nixon may announce later this month a sale of $80 million worth of U.S. cotton to China as further evidence of his trade overtures to Peking.

For weeks, trade spokesmen have all but confirmed that China has bought at least 400,000 bales of U.S. cotton and may want more. Even the Agriculture Department describes it as a "very good rumor" but stops short of flatly saying it's true.

The department sources say Henry Kissinger's visit to Peking next week is expected to result in some further talk of expanded U.S.-China trade and that the cotton sale well might be a White House footnote to reporting the visit.

Officially, the Agriculture Department acknowledges only that a Texas firm recently sold 400,000 bales of cotton to Ralli Brothers & Coney, Ltd., a British company.

The sale was given added weight Friday by the department in a revised report showing that U.S. cotton exports in 1973 now are expected to be 4.5 million bales or about 500,000 more than estimated a few weeks ago.

Speculation is that Nixon himself—or jointly with Peking—may want to note the cotton sale to China has a precedent, despite claims by administration officials that such transactions involve private companies and not government-to-government negotiations.

China began buying some U.S. grain late last summer in comparatively small quantities, beginning with 15 million bushels of wheat.

On Oct. 27, Nixon announced in a radio speech that China also had bought 12 million bushels of corn.

In all, China bought about $58 million worth of U.S. grain and soybean oil last year.

transferred to supertankers for shipment to U.S. markets.

Among those contesting construction were the Wilderness Society, Environmental Defense Fund Inc., and Friends of the Earth.

Agnew reports to President

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon gets a personal report at the Western White House today from Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, just back from a special mission to eight Southeast Asian nations.

He is the first of Nixon's two top post-war emissaries to return from talks with Asian leaders. National Security Adviser Henry A. Kissinger was in Hanoi today and will be in Peking next week.

Agnew has had little to say publicly on his 13-day tour, which ended when his presidential jet arrived at El Toro Marine Air Station near here Friday afternoon.

He went to the Newporter Inn in nearby Newport Beach for an overnight rest before reporting to Nixon.

At his last Asian stop in the Philippines, where he conferred at length with President Ferdinand Marcos, Agnew said:

"I reaffirmed the intention of the United States to meet its treaty commitments in the area, in general, and the Philippines in particular. As we approach a new era of peace, we should devote more attention to the economic and social problems of the area. We intend to cooperate with the Philippines and other nations in this regard."

The Philippine public information office said Marcos told Agnew about Asian security problems and about an assassination plot against Marcos last year in which it was alleged at least one American was involved.

The information agency said Marcos showed Agnew the confession of an American said to be involved in the plot and asked the United States to investigate reports of other Americans also allegedly involved.

Agnew's trip also included stops in Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand, Singapore, South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

Gilligan bares proposals for consumers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John Gilligan sent to the General Assembly Friday what he called a "tough, comprehensive package" of consumer protection legislation.

The governor said the legislation is aimed at continuing the progress made in the area of consumer protection last year.

"We made significant progress last year—but more needs to be done, and those bills address those needs," he said.

The only bill in the package actually introduced Friday during a skeleton session of the House was one requiring a uniform system of determining the useful product life of perishable food. The other measures are expected to be offered next week.

Among them are bills that would abolish the cognovit notes entirely and remove all remaining vestiges of the so-called "holder in due course" doctrine, both of which Gilligan said could leave a consumer defenseless.

Cognovit notes give the holder the right to repossess a mortgaged item without any court action, leaving the purchaser with no legal recourse.

The "holder in due course" doctrine permits a finance company or a bank to buy an installment sales contract from the merchant without being responsible for shoddy merchandise.

Last year the Legislature limited the use of the doctrine, but Gilligan said it left out some major areas such as automobile purchases.

Southeast raked by heavy storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A devastating winter storm walloped the Southeast today, dumping heavy snow from Florida to the Carolinas. The rest of the nation enjoyed generally fair and cold weather.

Up to 9 inches of snow paralyzed Columbus, Ga., while 6 inches blanketed the ground at Wilmington, N.C. Mobile, Ala., reported 3 inches of snow while 2 inches covered Pensacola, Fla.

Heavy-snow warnings were in effect for portions of Georgia and the Carolinas and travelers advisories were posted for parts of Mississippi, Alabama and northwest Florida.

Elsewhere across the Southeast, heavy rain soaked southeast Georgia and the Florida Peninsula and a band of freezing rain and sleet extended from northern Florida to the South Carolina coast.

More than an inch of rain doused Fort Myers and Key West, Fla., where wind gusts of up to 55 miles per hour were recorded. Severe thunderstorms and high winds blasted through much of central Florida and several homes were reported damaged. There were no reports of injuries.

Traffic in much of downtown New Orleans was nonexistent as a mixture of rain, sleet and snow sent shivers through residents of the usually warm and sunny Southern city.

Elsewhere around the nation, fair weather was the rule. Scattered snow fell across the Great Lakes region and rain and snow covered the central Pacific Coast.

Travelers advisories were wounded for the California mountain region as heavy snow and strong gusty winds were predicted.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 10 at Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., to 73 at Miami, Fla.

There have been no traffic deaths reported on Ohio's highways since the weekend began at 6 p.m. Friday, the Ohio Highway Patrol said Saturday morning.

The weekend count on traffic deaths will continue until midnight Sunday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is pushing to lop off millions of dollars in government benefits to disabled Vietnam-era soldiers, says the head of a House veterans' committee.

The veteran who left a leg in the Vietnam jungle, for example, could find disability benefits for his family cut from $6,740 a year to $1,272 under the plan drafted by the Veterans Administration and intended for implementation by July 1.

The plan has aroused immediate opposition from the chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., who has introduced legislation to block it. Dorn's bill also would strip the VA of its authority to alter the ratings without congressional approval.

Plans made for return of 142 Americans

Kissinger visits Hanoi; release of POWs nears

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger opened four days of postwar talks in Hanoi today, while U.S. and Vietnamese representatives in Saigon made final plans for the release of about 142 American and 3,000 Vietnamese prisoners of war Monday.

Kissinger landed in an Air Force jet shortly before noon at Hanoi's Giam Lam Airport, which was heavily damaged last December by U.S. bombers. He was the first ranking U.S. official to set foot in Hanoi in over a decade.

Earlier, Kissinger said that President Nixon, "hopes that this visit can inaugurate an entirely new relationship between the United States and North Vietnam."

Kissinger said he would take up with the Hanoi leadership a cease-fire for Laos.

"It has always been the assumption of the U.S. government that a cease-fire in Vietnam would be rapidly followed by a cease-fire in Laos," Kissinger said. "I shall discuss this and other matters on my visit to Hanoi."

A few hours before Kissinger's arrival in Hanoi, North Vietnam accused the United States of violating the Vietnam peace agreement by continuing air attacks in Laos and Cambodia. A Radio Hanoi broadcast cited Article 20 of the agreement which says that "foreign countries shall put an end to all military activities in Cambodia and Laos."

In Saigon, the senior representatives of the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong met all day at Tan Son Nhut Air Base to prepare for the first prisoner repatriation under the Vietnam peace agreement.

North Vietnam is to release about 115 American airmen Monday. On the same day, 27 American prisoners are to be released in South Vietnam at Quan Loi, near An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the Cambodian border. Two thousand North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and 1,000 South Vietnamese prisoners also will be exchanged at Quan Loi, Pleiku province in the central highlands, and Dong Ha, just below the demilitarized zone.

Meanwhile, U.S. sources said two North Vietnamese delegates to the Joint Military Commission suffered superficial head injuries and a South Vietnamese liaison officer was temporarily hospitalized from a rock-throwing incident Friday involving an airport crowd.

Hanoi's foreign ministry claimed eight North Vietnamese were hurt.

Meanwhile, trains rolled along normally after the strike, although the issue that brought it on is far from being resolved.

Penn Central has court permission to cut freight crews by a third through attrition over the next six years, and it was the implementation of his plan at 12:01 a.m. Thursday that sent members of United Transportation Union, AFLCIO, to the picket lines.

Congress acted late Thursday to have the planned crew cuts put off 90 days, and the strike was over—for 90 days at least.

William H. Moore, president of Penn Central, explained the "amazingly fast restoration" of service was the result of the speedy return of employees coupled with the prompt action of supervisors who had remained on the job.

"When the UTU removed their pickets we had scores of trains ready to go," Moore said. "In this way, we were able to minimize the delays of shipments. We're now getting back the freight which many shippers had planned to divert if the strike continued."

"We have notified our customers that we're eager to get back their usual business, and more besides."

The News in Brief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The work records of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo, including their high security clearances and signed agreements to keep secrets, have become the latest issue in the Pentagon papers trial.

The issue arose Friday when the government, moving to a new phase of its case against the pair, called to the stand the security officer who guarded secret papers at the Rand Corp., where Ellsberg and Russo worked.

Leave returnees alone, former POWs advocate

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A former inmate of the German prison camp Stalag 17 and two other men held prisoners of war during World War II say the best way to treat POWs returning from Vietnam is to leave them alone.

"Each prisoner of war had his own war and his own experiences," Malcolm Breeze, an officer of the Florida Chapter of American Ex-Prisoners of War said Friday.

"It's like some guys can have a couple of beers and get drunk while others can drink half a fifth of booze and hardly even notice it. Each has to find his own way," said Breeze.

Breeze was captured and interned in a Nazi prison camp when his B17 bomber was shot down on its last mission over Germany in July 1944. He was a flight engineer.

Kenneth Dancaster, a regional officer for the Veterans Administration in St. Petersburg who spent four months as a captive of the Germans in World War II, said people will not help the POWs by asking them questions about their treatment in captivity.

"If you're going to help this guy adjust, you aren't going to remind him of what he wants to forget," Dancaster said.

"Being a POW is not a special experience," added Dr. Norman Spector of Miami, in advocating that the men returning from Vietnam be allowed to live in peace upon their return.

"A POW is someone who's had a confrontation with his maker and found out what it's all about," said Spector, a

Disabled vets face big aid slash

Dorn said he understands the proposal would reduce payments to disabled veterans $160 million a year.

But a knowledgeable VA source confirmed that President Nixon's Office of Management and Budget is pushing for still deeper cuts.

The proposal, which stemmed from a five-year, $1 million Census Bureau study, revises the disability ratings which determine the monthly payments and fringe benefits due some 2.3 million disabled soldiers.

For example, the loss of a leg at the hip currently is counted as a 90 per cent disability, but drops to 40 per cent in the revised list.

In interviews Friday, officials of the committee, the VA and the American Legion confirmed the plan strikes hardest at Vietnam-era soldiers. The American Legion has protested it.

The sums paid at each level of disability are written into law and can be changed only by Congress. And because of legal restrictions similar to those governing the Social Security system, the administration cannot impound funds for disability payments.

Vietnam-era soldiers suffer the brunt of the decreases because older soldiers are protected by a law forbidding a reduction in a rating held for 20 years or longer. The 334,759 Vietnam-era soldiers current receiving disability payments won't fall into that class. Some of the 240,000 disabled Korean war veterans also may be subject to the change.

Though some categories were raised, particularly for psychiatric disabilities, the significance of the increases was disputed by the staff director of the House committee, Oliver Meadows.

"One group gets a little minor increase and the rest get the hell chopped out," said Meadows. "The younger guys are getting it in the neck."

The administration has defended the change as an effort to match government benefits more precisely with actual earnings lost because of disability. Meadows said payments even at the current level fall short of average industrial earnings.

The ratings reduction for amputees was proposed because the study found that "the muscles, the strength, the ability to move around are not so significant, as regards earnings, in a more technological society as we now are in," according to the VA source.

Soybean supply outlook tightens

By L.H. Simerl
Illinois Extension Economist

The soybean situation tightened up on Jan. 24 when the USDA reported the stocks of grains on hand at the first of the year.

The soybeans in all positions on Jan. 1 were listed at 870 million bushels — 2 per cent less than one year before and 30 to 40 million bushels less than many persons in the soybean business had expected. The result was that soybean prices went up the limit of 10 cents a bushel on the next market day.

Here are the pertinent figures. The carryover of old beans last Sept. 1 was reported at 72 million bushels, and the new crop was estimated at 1,276 million bushels. Thus, the apparent supply for the marketing year that began last Sept. 1 totaled 1,348 million bushels.

Reports filed by soybean processors indicated that they crushed 259 million bushels during the four months (September through December), while the amount exported was 183 million bushels. Subtracting these amounts from the beginning supply left 906 million bushels as the expected stocks figure for Jan. 1.

When the official compilation showed 36 million bushels less than that, soybean prices hit the ceiling. The shortfall in stocks probably was caused in part, at least, by field losses that were heavier than expected.

There are often unavoidable errors in the estimates of stocks on hand January 1, primarily because of uncertainties concerning stocks held on farms. The possibility of error was increased this year because part of the beans reported on hand by farmers were still out in the fields.

THE lower-than-expected stocks figure made a tight supply situation even tighter. It reminds us of the old question, "What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object?"

Livestock and poultry producers

here and abroad seem to insist on feeding more soybean meal than ever before. They cannot continue to do this, however, because the supply of soybeans just is not large enough to maintain crushings and exports at the rates that have prevailed during the first five months of this marketing year (September through January).

Here is the statistical situation. First, remember that processors and exporters were scraping the bottom of their bins for soybeans last August. By Sept. 1, the stocks of old beans were down to 72 million bushels — barely enough for pipeline supplies.

During the first five months of this marketing year, the amount of soybeans used and exported was about 13 per cent greater than a year before. But the amount of soybeans available for the remaining seven months appears to be about 3 per cent less than a year ago. Hence, the rates of use and export must be reduced sharply sometime before the new crop becomes available. The only "reducer" in sight is high prices.

No one knows whether soybean prices will rise or fall — or how much. But farmers who wish to hold their beans until summer can take advantage of a very unusual market situation. Prices of the July and August futures are below — far below — current cash prices.

Therefore farmers who want to hold soybeans until these months have a much better chance of making a profit, or avoiding a loss, by selling beans held on the farm or in warehouses and then buying an equal amount of July or August futures. Win or lose, the futures market will return 30 to 40 cents more than holding cash beans.

Ohio Perspective

State ag secretary urges Butz removal

By DEAN SCHOTT
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Agriculture Secretary Eugene Abercrombie said his former college teacher, U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, should be removed from office.

"I think Earl Butz should not be secretary of agriculture," said Abercrombie, "and I have a lot of company around the country, too."

"I have the feeling that a secretary of agriculture should have grassroots backing and even have callouses on his hands from farm work."

The Ohio agriculture leader said Butz has neither the grass roots support nor the callouses.

Abercrombie is a 1938 graduate of Purdue University, where Butz had been Dean of the College of Agriculture and a professor until he became agriculture secretary in early 1972.

Abercrombie claimed Butz is "too far removed" from the small, independent American farmer and too close to corporate interests, such as Ralston Purina Co. and John Deere Co.

Butz served on the board of directors for the two companies dealing in livestock feeds and tractor and farm implements.

"I don't dislike him personally," said Abercrombie, "but I do disagree with him on several points. We don't see eye-to-eye on family farming."

The Ohio secretary said the federal government has recently taken two actions that particularly hurt the small family farmer.

He said the government cut back on emergency crop loans to farmers during a time of serious need in Ohio, and has dropped the Rural Environmental Assistance Program, which aided small farmers in conserving land and natural resources.

As a result, the small family farmers is "getting kicked in the seat of his pants," said Abercrombie. "What in the hell do you do with them when they have to leave the farm? Send them to Dayton or Cleveland and put them on welfare?"

He said the small family farm should be preserved because it is the "epitome of efficiency."

"The small, independent farmer has invested his own dollars and has everything to gain. He is willing to get up before dawn and work until after dark."

"On a corporate farm with hired labor there is a lack of interest among the employees, other than for the paycheck. They would rather get up at 8 or 9 in morning than at dawn."

Abercrombie estimated that one-half of one per cent of the 110,000 farms in Ohio are corporate in nature. As a result, he said, the corporate farm has not had too much impact in the state.

The Ohio agriculture leader owns a 500-acre family corporation farm in Hamilton County.

"My farm is set up as a family corporation so I can pass it on to my three sons," he says, "It is not a conglomerate, and I do it for tax reasons only."

Sweet corn short course this month in Columbus

A Sweet Corn Short Course for growers, handlers, packers and shippers will be held 29 at the Sheraton Columbus Hotel, Columbus. It is designed to present new ideas in all phases of the industry, according to William M. Brooks, Extension horticulturist at The Ohio State University.

The morning program will open 9:30 with a discussion of the performance of sweet corn varieties in Ohio, by Alvin Mosley, horticulturist, the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center, and James Unger, Extension Service horticulturist at Ohio State. An update on weed control in sweet corn will be given by E.K. Alban, professor of horticulture, Ohio State.

A look at the mail service

It is a weary thing that Congress must once again formally investigate slow mail delivery. That ground has often been covered before, many will say, and what good has ever come of it?

This is exactly the reason for the new probe to be undertaken by the Senate Post Office subcommittee on postal operations. The United States Postal Service took over with well publicized intentions of maintaining service levels and at the same time speeding up delivery. One gets the impression that things are not much better than they were before, and perhaps worse.

That feeling may be wrong. It is a subjective impression, based on fragmentary individual experience rather than on carefully documented studies. It is an impression widely shared, however. Sen. Fritz Hollings of South Carolina, chairman of the subcommittee which will conduct hearings on the subject, reports that many complaints have come to his office.

Well, then, let the matter be looked into. Let the complaints be heard. Let Postal Service officials defend their performance, and justify the shortcomings of mail delivery. Much was expected of the Postal Service when it was given the task of handling the mail free of congressional interference. Since this quasi-public corporation has fallen short of those expectations, it is time for an accounting.

WASHINGTON CALLING . . . by Marquis Childs

Mr. Ash and the OMB

WASHINGTON — "The appointment of Roy Ash from Litton Industries to head the Office of Management and Budget is a disgrace."

That is the lady from Maine, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, speaking in this instance more in anger than in sorrow following her defeat for reelection last November. Her deep feeling reflects the outcome of a power skirmish in the continuous struggle for contracts within the military - industrial complex. Her loyal friends believe that losing this skirmish was one reason for her defeat.

Up for grabs were two Litton shipbuilding contracts. This was in itself unusual, since Litton has had comparatively little experience in that field. Obvious from the outset was that the Senate Armed Services Committee would have a lot to say about where those contracts would go.

Sen. Smith was the ranking Republican on the committee. She set out to persuade the Department of Defense that the Litton contracts should go to Bath Shipbuilding in Bath, Me. Here was a company with long experience in building ships with both the know-how and the yards.

THERE WAS, however, another powerful claimant for the contracts. Sen. John C. Stennis, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, believed they should go to his state of Mississippi. They would take up slack in employment and help the state to industrialize.

Some of the bitterest disputes in the memory of veteran members of the committee went on between the lady from Maine and the dignified gentleman from Mississippi. Here was no little tidbit. One contract for 30 destroyers of the DD-963 class had a target, that ingenious word the Defense Department uses to cover all contingencies, of $1.8 billion.

A second contract was for nine LHAs, Landing Helicopter Assault ships. The target price for the total was between $500 and $600 million. But as the price went through the roof with constant escalation the number of LHAs was cut back to five.

Mississippi, with almost as little experience in shipbuilding as Litton, got the contracts. Part of the deal was for the state to build a modern, automated shipyard at Pascagoula on the Gulf Coast. The cost met by a state bond issue was $130 million. Theoretically, Litton will repay the state for the cost of the yard.

THUS FAR the Navy has had nothing but trouble with the contract for the LHAs designed to put Marines on a beach for instant attack. Cost overruns and charges of mismanagement and delay have been constant. The destroyer contract seems to have fared better, although whether the target price and the target date will be met is still uncertain.

Litton is in a snarl over claims in connection with the building of nuclear attack submarines at Pascagoula. The company is demanding $30.6 million for purported late delivery of government materials needed to build the submarines. The Navy says it owes nothing on this claim which has been referred to the Armed Forces Board of Contract Appeals.

In an example of candor from a bureau hitherto almost unheard of, Gordon W. Rule, the Navy's cost-cutter, told a Senate committee that the President had made a mistake in naming Ash to the Office of Management and Budget, and Ash made a worse mistake in accepting. Rule was promptly exiled to a broom closet in the Pentagon.

HE SAID Congress should be forewarned that the Administration will ask for legislation to bail out the shipbuilding enterprises of contractors, including Litton and Lockheed Aircraft. Earlier the Washington Star - News had come up with a confidential memorandum indicating that Ash, at a secret meeting with the then Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, Connally advised him to come up with a big presentation that would overawe Congress.

Sen. Stennis is an honorable man who has performed valiantly as chairman of Armed Services. Margaret Smith was doing what comes naturally in seeking contracts for her home state. But the military - industrial - political complex route is a hell of a way to run a railroad, and especially a railroad that will cost next year around $800 billion.

Belatedly, the Senate voted by 63 to 17 to require Senate confirmation of the director of OMB; belatedly, since he has already been sworn into the office. Confirmation would have meant a Senate hearing into Ash's background and that surely is the least that should be expected under the circumstances.

Dear Abby:

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
False teeth are best, says this grandmother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: That dentist who said that with proper dental hygiene and periodic checkups one could keep his own teeth forever was wrong.

I inherited soft, rotten teeth, and no amount of dental care or treatment could save them. I spent a fortune and suffered for years trying to save mine, but I lost them all at age 33.

Now, at age 57 I am delighted with my falsies. I can eat corn on the cob, caramel apples-anything you can eat, and I wouldn't have my own teeth back for a million dollars.

Oh, another fringe benefit: I can take out my teeth and entertain my grandchildren by dancing a wild flamenco, using my dentures as castanets. I'll bet YOU can't do that, Abby!

FANNY IN L.A.

DEAR GRANNY: You're right, I can't. But I can do a wild kazatsky with my originals.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law recently had her first baby. It was a 9-lb. "premature" child, arriving six months after the wedding-but that's another story.

Anyway, she has asked me for a list of my friends and relatives to whom she should send birth announcements. Abby, I don't don't feel like giving her a list because she did not acknowledge many of her wedding gifts from my friends and relatives, and I kept getting calls (and letters) asking me if she had received a gift. (And this was four and five months after the wedding.)

I realize that she may not have been feeling well, but she's a 22-year-old college graduate who did not have to go to a job anywhere, and she has had a fulltime maid since the day she got back from her honeymoon.

So, I ask you, what would YOU do?

MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR MOTHER: I'd tell her I don't feel like giving her a list. And I'd tell her why.

DEAR ABBY: Lots of folks write to tell you that you were wrong, but I am writing to tell you that you were right. Also, to say that I am sorry I didn't take the advice you gave me back in 1960 when I asked you what to do about a husband who used to beat me up so bad he'd put me in the hospital.

You said: "Get rid of him, Honey, before he maims you for life."

Well, I didn't get rid of him. I took him back and gave him another chance. And I hate to tell you how many more beatings and chances there were after that.

Finally, on the night of June 17th, 1972, we had another bad fight. My brother happen to come by at the time, and he tried to help me, but my husband shot and killed my brother on the spot. He also put a bullet through my right rib cage, shot a part of my right arm off, fractured my skull, and gave me a concussion and broke my ear drum. The cops came in and killed him while he was trying to escape.

Even though I was in the intensive care unit for weeks, I am still alive, but like you told me back in 1960, someday that man would maim me for life. And he did.

SHOULD HAVE LISTENED IN PHILLIPS. ME.

The average commuter by car travels 9.4 miles to work in an estimated 16 minutes according to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association. Trips to see doctors or dentists are slightly shorter but at 8.3 miles are still nearly twice as far as the average trip to shop of 4.4 miles.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

By FRANCES DRAKE
Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
SUNDAY, FEB. 11
ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Some unique offerings indicated. Consider each separately, meditating, deliberating well before accepting. When sure, be quick to act, so as not to lose the best.
TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Flavor your usually direct approach with discreet deference, respect for other's opinions. You will achieve most by being moderate, acting without pressure.
GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Don't go against present trends or you may find yourself completely out of step with others. Some of your future objectives are taking shape.
CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Take nothing for granted now. Investigate all situations carefully and, in general, "expect the unexpected." Romance and family concerns highly favored.
LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Collaborate on a program with associates who have allied interests and principles. Some excellent ideas could result from a "meeting of minds."
VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Favorably planetary influences. Pitch right in and accomplish what you must. During leisure hours, consider some new goals, plan first steps toward attaining them.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Good planetary aspects should help you forge ahead in matters close to your heart. But you must HAVE HEART to put them over! A cordial attitude will help.
SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Effective action will win the approval of superiors. Intelligent discussion will help crystallize next moves. Rational analysis of all issues important.
SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
A day for cautious conduct. Being reasonable and gracious in persuasion will result in support. Sift the details of all procedures carefully.
CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
The big thing now would be for you to reverse tactics in a project that has not been producing well, and try a new method. You might even find some unexpected aid.
AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
To achieve worthwhile goals now, you will need the cooperation of others, so don't be aggressive or try to force issues.
PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
If plans do not all work out as anticipated, seek the reasons instead of regretting. Don't waste time in daydreaming, but do take time for careful planning.

methods. You could couple past AND present experience to great advantage.
VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Keep emotions under stern control so as to insure better judgment in trying situations. Further admonitions: Don't overtax yourself; don't overelaborate in handling details.
LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Concentrate on substantial and pertinent matters. Avoid activities which interfere with obligations. A good idea from an unexpected source could prove extremely helpful.
SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
You may note an increasing tempo in some areas which will prove beneficial in the long run. Stress accuracy, good will, logic.
SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Good Jupiter influences! Trigger all action to blend with the top offerings of the day and add finesse to make things run as smoothly as possible.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Unusual opportunities may be discovered by those who are imaginative and enterprising enough to seek them out. And, certainly, the Capricornian is imaginative and enterprising.
AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
As with Virgo, don't give into emotionalism now. Dealings with others will be more pleasant and profitable if you emphasize reason, calmness and logic.
PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Emphasize precision and accuracy, but not to the extent of being fussy or overbearing with those of slower mind. Day calls for initiative, a realistic viewpoint and stick-to-itiveness.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine intellect and the will power to achieve the most lofty ambitions. When you are guided by reason alone, your path to success is comparatively easy, since you find quick solutions to problems and are not dismayed by obstacles. But once your emotions take over, you flounder and lose yourself in a morass of indecision and anxiety. Try to master yourself, therefore, and you can master the world. Your ideas are progressive and you tend toward the creative in your choice of a life work. You make excellent writers, musicians, painters and entertainers; could also succeed in the law and statesmanship.

Pledge ritual held by Phi Theta Gamma

A pledge ritual was held by candlelight for Mrs. Donny Campbell and Mrs. Garry Campbell in the home of Mrs. Randy Miller Thursday evening, with Miss Brenda Oesterle conducting the ritual. Both pledges received pins, roses and Sigma Phi books. The ritual preceded the regular meeting.

Mrs. Michael Riggilio was a guest, and announced the Sweetheart Dance for Saturday evening.

Mrs. James Bonham announced a Valentine party for the nursery children at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, beginning at 10 a.m. Wednesday, and final plans were made for the card party and style show for March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the DP&L auditorium, which will be open to the public.

Other events announced by Mrs. Miller were the Rush Party March 14, and an election of officers March 21.

Miss Oesterle will be hostess to the group at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 21 in her home.

Jerry Cremeans, game protector for Fayette County, showed a film on pollution entitled "The Gift." A white elephant sale was a feature at the closing.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Donny Campbell and Mrs. Garry Campbell, Mrs. Keith Osborne, Miss Diana Havens, Mrs. Jack Starr, Miss Pam Starr, Mrs. Bonham, Mrs. Riggilio and Mr. Cremeans by Miss Oesterle and Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Clarke entertains Elmwood Aid

Mrs. William Clarke welcomed the members of the Elmwood Ladies Aid Society Thursday afternoon for the February meeting. There were 22 members and one guest, Mrs. Geraldine Thompson present.

"Love" was the theme of the beautiful devotional service conducted by Mrs. Ruth Smith, who gave short excerpts on the subject followed by prayer.

Following the usual reports, Valentine favors were displayed. The cleverly designed baskets created by Mrs. Walter Parrett and Mrs. Alta Barger were to be distributed to shut-ins. Since the society provides charitable service in the community, suggestions were solicited for projects. Favored by the group was the "penny a day" idea to be conducted on a yearly basis. Also adopted was membership contribution to a special Easter fund.

Calls recorded numbered 133. Remembered with the "Happy Birthday" song was Mrs. Emily Laum.

For entertainment, the social committee conducted two contests with Mrs. Willard Moore and Mrs. Jessie Thompson as winners. Much merriment was provoked from the humorous sayings so ingeniously worked out from Valentine motto hearts.

The social committee served delicious refreshments with each cover marked with a Valentine favor. Assisting Mrs. Clarke were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Carl Meriweather and Mrs. Orville Miller.

Circleville's free throws spoil WCH's title dreams

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Washington C.H.'s hopes for an undisputed South Central Ohio League championship were nearly spoiled Friday night as Circleville nipped the determined Blue Lions 59-56 in a fourth quarter cardiac caper before a bulging at the seams crowd at Circleville's junior high gym.

Only one possibility remains for the scrappy Lions in hopes of grabbing an undisputed title, and that would be if they defeat intra-county rival Miami Trace and Greenfield upsets Circleville next Friday night.

The stunned Lions, who turned in a hard-fought performance and held the upper hand throughout three quarters of play, saw an eight-point cushion evaporate in the heart-throbbing fourth period as the shock-proof Tigers grabbed a slender one-point advantage with a measly 24 seconds remaining and then capped the win with a pair of free throws 13 seconds later.

WASHINGTON C.H.'S loss sent the tight SCOL sweepstakes into a three-way snarl for the top perch between the Blue Lions, Circleville and Miami Trace. All have identical 6-3 SCOL records.

Free throws, a Washington C.H. bugaboo, spelled the doom for head coach Gary Shaffer's title-hungry Blue Lions in the crucial contest. The Lions bucketed five more field goals than their Pickaway County foes (24-19), but head coach John Lawhorn's toughies held a lopsided 21-8 scoring advantage from the charity stripe.

Circleville capitalized on its free throw shooting advantage in the second half when the Tigers canned 11 of 15 free shots. The Lions, although it's hard to understand, attempted only two free throws after intermission and missed both.

On the evening, Circleville hit 21 of 32 free throws for a fine 66 per cent figure while the Lions made good on eight of only 16 chances.

Dave Truex, the husky 6-foot-0 forward, flamed Circleville to its 12th win in 16 outings as he bagged 20 points on the basis of six field goals and eight free throws.

BUT MORE importantly, the steady senior popped in nine points in the pulse-pounding fourth quarter. In fact, it was a free throw by Truex with three minutes left that handed Circleville its first lead of the game and later the hard-working ace hit two straight field goals as the Tigers erased a three-point Washington C.H. lead with 1:01 remaining and posted the late comeback-behind win.

Three other Circleville players landed double figure totals with Dan Graham's 13-point effort leading the way. Greg Hoskins and bright-eyed outside shot Robin Martin contributed 12 points each.

Versatile senior Dick Witherspoon topped a balanced Washington C.H. scoring punch with 11 points and junior frontliner Kenny Knisley hooped 10 points.

It was Knisley's clutch scorework in the third frame which kept the Lions on top. Senior smoothie Chuck Bath scored nine points before leaving with five personal fouls with 11 seconds to play, and steel-nerved senior guard Albert Donahue and sparkplug Jeff Downs added seven and six points respectively for the Lions, now 9-7 on the season.

The Lions opened with an aggressive man-to-man defense while Circleville's offensive plans were to go inside to Graham. The offense was effective as pivotman Jeff Wallace spent his third personal foul before three minutes had elapsed.

But senior playmaker Chris Shaper got the Lions rolling and at one time they had constructed an 8-1 bulge behind five points from the 5-foot-10 guard. The Tigers didn't score a field goal until 2:55 remained and Washington C.H. grabbed a 13-7 first period lead.

CIRCLEVILLE outscored the Lions 17-15 in the second frame and closed the gap to 28-24 at halftime, ven though the Lions had led by as much as 11 points early in the quarter.

Only one personal foul was whistled in the third period as the Lions fought like the dickens to stay ahead behind three clutch buckets by Knisley and some nifty inside work from Bath. The Lions outscored the Tigers 16-12 to nab a 44-36 lead heading into the fourth period.

Circleville opened a 10-point scoring spree in the opening three minutes of the last frame while the Lions could garner only one fielder to tie the score 46-46 with 5:03 showing. The Tigers then grabbed their first lead when Truex hit a free throw with three minutes left, but the Lions bounced back to take a 54-51 lead with 1:35 to go before the late scoring spurge from Truex and two insurance free throws by Hoskins.

Rampaging MT posts sixth straight win

By ED SUMMERS

Record-Herald Staff Writer

The Miami Trace Panthers took a giant step in their quest for a SCOL championship Friday night by dominating Wilmington 74-60 behind a 29-point spree by Muff Jones.

The key to the victory was the Panthers ability to keep Wilmington's talented center, Tim Wilson, away from the bucket and off the boards. Wilson, averaging nearly 17 points per game, managed only three points and five rebounds before leaving the game with five fouls early in the fourth quarter.

Miami Trace jumped to a quick 8-2 lead in the opening minutes of play and were never headed despite a cold third quarter which saw the Hurricane outscore the Panthers 17-10 and close a 15-point halftime deficit to six points.

MUFF JONES tossed a 10 of 14 shots and added nine free throws for his 29 points. He also led the Panthers in rebounding with 11 followed by brother Pete with eight and Cottrill with 6. Cottrill added 14 markers to the Panther cause and along with Dave Persinger kept the 6-3, 230-pound Wilson off the boards.

Brad Halley and Robert Raizk led Wilmington with 19 and 18 points respectively, both hitting consistently from outside.

Both teams started off cautiously with the Panthers drawing first blood on a Muff Jones tipin of a missed shot. Bill McClary tied the game at 2-2 a minute later, but Miami Trace poured in three straight buckets to open an 8-2 lead with 4:12 remaining, and held a 16-7 margin at the buzzer.

Muff Jones pumped in 10 points in the quarter to pace the Panthers.

Wilmington was unable to crack the Panthers tough man to man defense in the second quarter and fell behind 27-17 with 4:09 showing on the clock. Wilson picked up his third foul seconds later and was removed from the contest. The Hurricane was then held scoreless for the next three minutes as Miami Trace built a 30-17 lead. A three-point play by Pete Jones with :02 remaining gave Miami Trace a 15 point bulge, 36-21, at the half.

The third quarter nearly proved disastrous for the Fayette Countians as they managed only two points in the first four minutes of play while Wilmington pumped in 12. The Hurricane closed the gap to six at 40-34 on a foul shot by Wilson with 2:53 on the clock but were unable to cut the lead further.

Miami Trace, leading 46-38, took complete command of the contest in the opening minutes of the final stanza, opening a 52-40 lead on two free throws by Pete Jones as Wilson left the game with five fouls.

Wilmington perked up after Wilson was replaced by Tim Haley and took advantage of two Panther turnovers to close the gap to three buckets at 54-48 but Muff Jones came to the rescue and tossed in two quick scores and put the game out of reach.

Panther coach Jan Stauffer emptied his bench as his charges opened up a 12 point lead 66-52 with just under two minutes remaining and Miami Trace coasted in with a 74-60 win.

THE VICTORY, the sixth in a row for the Panthers, puts Miami Trace in a three-way deadlock for first play along with Washington C. H. and Circleville, and sets the stage for a showdown battle with the Blue Lions next Friday.

Both teams hit well from the field, the Hurricane making good on 26 of 60 for 43 per cent while the Panthers hit on 29 of 66 for 44 per cent. Miami Trace again enjoyed a good night from the charity line with 16 of 23 free tosses. Wilmington with only 12 opportunities from the stripe, hit eight.

The Hurricane played nearly error free ball in losing seventh game of the season, committing only seven turnovers. The Panthers, now 11-6, were guilty of 11 miscues.

Speaking of Your Health...

Cryosurgery for Cancer

Cryosurgery is a specialized technique for the removal of malignant (cancerous) and benign (non-cancerous) growths.

Liquid nitrogen is circulated through a variety of ingeniously created instruments and, when applied to tissue, destroys it.

The liquid nitrogen, lowered to hundreds of degrees below zero, can have its penetrating effect controlled by brilliantly conceived engineering devices.

Dr. William G. Cahan, of the Memorial Hospital for Cancer and allied diseases in New York City, is one of our nation's leading proponents of the freezing technique in carefully selected cases. Dr. Cahan and his co-workers are carrying on extensive experimental studies on the use of cryosurgery for growths of the larynx, the uterus, the prostate and the breast.

The results are encouraging, and the discerning statistics offer great promise that this method may be a valuable addition to all others now in active use. The eventual answer to cancer lies in the dedicated efforts of such scientists.

It has generally been thought that people with chronic, long-standing coughs, chronic bronchitis, and changes in the lung tissue are forever condemned to an irreversible condition.

Only recently, Dr. John T. Sharp, professor of medicine at the University of Illinois, completed a most interesting study on people with persistent respiratory symptoms. The evidence indicates there was still hope that chronic lung conditions and the symptoms that go with this could still be controlled.

The best chance these patients have to stop the progression of the chronic lung condition is to stop smoking completely and absolutely. In addition, it is imperative that the general level of health be maintained with excellent nutrition, vitamin supplements, carefully prescribed exercise, weight control and early treatment of even simple upper respiratory infections.

The former sense of hopelessness about chronic lung conditions can be modified in many cases if these health-care axioms are observed.

ULTRASOUND is now being applied to medicine.

A beam of sound is sent out and responding echoes are then recorded. This method is being tried in obstetrics to locate the exact position of the placenta deep within the uterus.

A photographic record of the placenta and where it is attached to the inside wall of the womb, is thus obtained.

These echograms can be of tremendous importance in unusual situations where the life of the unborn child is threatened. Unusual conditions can be anticipated and plans made for the greater safety of the child and the mother.

Plant blast fatal to 2

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Firemen and officials of the Dinner Bell Packing Co. here are continuing their investigation into the cause of an explosion that killed two men at the company's sewage treatment building Friday.

Two of the company's employees, John Calvert, 35, of New Carlisle and Hugh Wheat, 67, of Troy, were killed in the blast. Officials of the packing company said the two men were flushing out a sewage pipe with water at the time of the explosion.

A faulty gas heater in the basement of the building has tentatively been blamed for leveling the 20-by-20 foot, one-story structure.

Animal sewage from the packing operation was treated in the building before it entered the nearby Miami River. Officials of the company say they plan to connect the plant's sewage pipes to those of Troy in order to continue sewage treatment operations.

Three factories in Washington, Mo., account for most of the corn cob pipes used in the world. One factory makes over 10 million pipes annually from specially grown white corn.

Farm machinery, tools stolen; loss is heavy

Five reports of thefts were investigated by city police and the Fayette County Sheriff's Department. One incident involved the theft of farm machinery valued at $1,442.50.

Loren Noble reported to the sheriff's department Friday that a gravity bed wagon and a combine chopper and spreader were taken within the past three weeks from Greenline Equipment, U.S. 22-E. The wagon was parked in a field east of the business building, and the chopper-spreader was taken from along side the main building. The report was investigated by Deputy Sheriff D.J. Krupla.

Darrell Williams reported the theft of a power saw to the Sheriff's Department. Williams, according to the report, told deputies that the saw was being used at the Clarence Woods home on the Pisgah Road Thursday and was missing from the front porch when the worker returned on Friday. The saw was valued at $100.

ches, hammers, tool boxes and pliers valued at $285 and a chain saw valued at $160. According to Deputy Krupla, the thief entered the open door of the barn and took the tools which were on and around a work bench.

Several quarters in a jar at the home of Michael Barker, 811 McLean St., were taken between 7:15 p.m. and 11 p.m. Thursday, according to Police Sgt. Charles M. Long. Barker reported the incident to police at 12:25 p.m. Friday.

A pipe wrench and screwdriver were used on the rear door of the Barker home to gain entry, according to police.

A fire extinguisher taken from a school bus parked at the Bloomingburg School was recovered by Krupla Friday afternoon. Cecil Harris, bus driver, reported the theft to the Sheriff's Department. The extinguisher had been discharged beside a storage shed behind the school.

Phosphate ban said working

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's ban on phosphates in detergents and other cleaning products appears to have reduced by two-thirds the amount of phosphorous being dumped in area rivers and streams, court testimony shows.

In a continuing battle over the legality, and a more subtle controversy over the advisability, of banning phosphates, Dr. Cecil Lue-Hing introduced evidence in U. S. District Court showing that 6.54 tons of phosphorous are discharged daily from the sewerage system as opposed to 20.20 tons during a testing period prior to the ban.

Big cotton sale to Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sources in the Agriculture Department are speculating that President Nixon may announce later this month a sale of $80 million worth of U.S. cotton to China as further evidence of his trade overtures to Peking.

For weeks, trade spokesmen have all but confirmed that China has bought at least 400,000 bales of U.S. cotton and may want more. Even the Agriculture Department describes it as a "very good rumor" but stops short of flatly saying it's true.

The department sources say Henry Kissinger's visit to Peking next week is expected to result in some further talk of expanded U.S.-China trade and that the cotton sale well might be a White House footnote to reporting the visit.

Officially, the Agriculture Department acknowledges only that a Texas firm recently sold 400,000 bales of cotton to Ralli Brothers & Coney, Ltd., a British company.

The sale was given added weight Friday by the department in a revised report showing that U.S. cotton exports in 1973 now are expected to be 4.5 million bales or about 500,000 more than estimated a few weeks ago.

Speculation is that Nixon himself—or jointly with Peking—may want to note the cotton sale to China has a precedent, despite claims by administration officials that such transactions involve private companies and not government-to-government negotiations.

China began buying some U.S. grain late last summer in comparatively small quantities, beginning with 15 million bushels of wheat.

On Oct. 27, Nixon announced in a radio speech that China also had bought 12 million bushels of corn.

In all, China bought about $58 million worth of U.S. grain and soybean oil last year.

Alaskan pipeline halted by court

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Alaskan leaders have reacted with shock to a U.S. appeals court ruling which again has sidetracked at least temporarily construction of a pipeline to tap the oil riches of the Arctic Slope.

The 150-page opinion made public in Washington late Friday overturns a lower court decision by ruling that an extrawide federal land corridor for the proposed 789-mile oil pipeline violates provisions of the Mineral Leasing Act of 1920.

"This is the worst possible opinion that could have come," said an aide to Alaska Gov. William A. Egan.

The 1920 law specifies that rights-of-way over public land must be limited to a width of 25 feet on either side of the pipeline.

Hence, U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia declared, the 146-foot right-of-way the Interior Department has proposed granting to Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. is illegal. Alyeska is a consortium of several oil companies with interests in the Prudhoe Bay oil fields of the Arctic Slope.

"Since all parties agree that construction of the proposed 48-inch diameter pipeline is impossible if all construction work must take place within the width limitations... we must enjoin issuance of the special land-use permit until Congress changes the applicable law," the court ruled.

An oil company spokesman here called the 150-page ruling "ungodly complex."

Alyeska declined to predict the effect of the ruling.

The proposed pipeline would run 789 miles from Prudhoe Bay on the North Slope, at the northern tip of Alaska, to the ice-free port of Valdez on the Gulf of Alaska, where the crude oil would be

Gilligan bares proposals for consumers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John Gilligan sent to the General Assembly Friday what he called a "tough, comprehensive package" of consumer protection legislation.

The governor said the legislation is aimed at continuing the progress made in the area of consumer protection last year.

"We made significant progress last year—but more needs to be done, and those bills address those needs," he said.

The only bill in the package actually introduced Friday during a skeleton session of the House was one requiring a uniform system of determining the useful product life of perishable food. The other measures are expected to be offered next week.

Among them are bills that would abolish the cognovit notes entirely and remove all remaining vestiges of the so-called "holder in due course" doctrine, both of which Gilligan said could leave a consumer defenseless.

Cognovit notes give the holder the right to repossess a mortgaged item without any court action, leaving the purchaser with no legal recourse.

The "holder in due course" doctrine permits a finance company or a bank to buy an installment sales contract from the merchant without being responsible for shoddy merchandise.

Last year the Legislature limited the use of the doctrine, but Gilligan said it left out some major areas such as automobile purchases.

Southeast raked by heavy storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A devastating winter storm walloped the Southeast today, dumping heavy snow from Florida to the Carolinas. The rest of the nation enjoyed generally fair and cold weather.

Up to 9 inches of snow paralyzed Columbus, Ga., while 6 inches blanketed the ground at Wilmington, N.C. Mobile, Ala., reported 3 inches of snow while 2 inches covered Pensacola, Fla.

Heavy-snow warnings were in effect for portions of Georgia and the Carolinas and travelers advisories were posted for parts of Mississippi, Alabama and northwest Florida.

Elsewhere across the Southeast, heavy rain soaked southeast Georgia and the Florida Peninsula and a band of freezing rain and sleet extended from northern Florida to the South Carolina coast.

More than an inch of rain doused Fort Myers and Key West, Fla., where wind gusts of up to 55 miles per hour were recorded. Severe thunderstorms and high winds blasted through much of central Florida and several homes were reported damaged. There were no reports of injuries.

Traffic in much of downtown New Orleans was nonexistent as a mixture of rain, sleet and snow sent shivers through residents of the usually warm and sunny Southern city.

Elsewhere around the nation, fair weather was the rule. Scattered snow fell across the Great Lakes region and rain and snow covered the central Pacific Coast.

Travelers advisories were wound for the California mountain region as heavy snow and strong gusty winds were predicted.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 10 at Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., to 73 at Miami, Fla.

The weekend count on traffic deaths will continue until midnight Sunday.

Plans made for return of 142 Americans

Kissinger visits Hanoi; release of POWs nears

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger opened four days of postwar talks in Hanoi today, while U.S. and Vietnamese representatives in Saigon made final plans for the release of about 142 American and 3,000 Vietnamese prisoners of war Monday.

Kissinger landed in an Air Force jet shortly before noon at Hanoi's Giam Lam Airport, which was heavily damaged last December by U.S. bombers. He was the first ranking U.S. official to set foot in Hanoi in over a decade.

Earlier, Kissinger said that President Nixon, "hopes that this visit can inaugurate an entirely new relationship between the United States and North Vietnam."

Kissinger said he would take up with the Hanoi leadership a cease-fire for Laos.

"It has always been the assumption of the U.S. government that a cease-fire in Vietnam would be rapidly followed by a cease-fire in Laos," Kissinger said. "I shall discuss this and other matters on my visit to Hanoi."

A few hours before Kissinger's arrival in Hanoi, North Vietnam accused the United States of violating the Vietnam peace agreement by continuing air attacks in Laos and Cambodia. A Radio Hanoi broadcast cited Article 20 of the agreement which says that "foreign countries shall put an end to all military activities in Cambodia and Laos."

In Saigon, the senior representatives of the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong met all day at Tan Son Nhut Air Base to prepare for the first prisoner repatriation under the Vietnam peace agreement.

North Vietnam is to release about 115 American airmen Monday. On the same day, 27 American prisoners are to be released in South Vietnam at Quan Loi, near An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon and 10 miles from the Cambodian border. Two thousand North Vietnamese and Viet Cong and 1,000 South Vietnamese prisoners also will be exchanged at Quan Loi, Pleiku province in the central highlands, and Dong Ha, just below the demilitarized zone.

Meanwhile, U.S. sources said two North Vietnamese delegates to the Joint Military Commission suffered superficial head injuries and a South Vietnamese liaison officer was temporarily hospitalized from a rock-throwing incident Friday involving an airport crowd.

Hanoi's foreign ministry claimed eight North Vietnamese were hurt.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The work records of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo, including their high security clearances and signed agreements to keep secrets, have become the latest issue in the Pentagon papers trial.

The issue arose Friday when the government, moving to a new phase of its case against the pair, called to the stand the security officer who guarded secret papers at the Rand Corp., where Ellsberg and Russo worked.

Leave returnees alone, former POWs advocate

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A former inmate of the German prison camp Stalag 17 and two other men held prisoners of war during World War II say the best way to treat POWs returning from Vietnam is to leave them alone.

"Each prisoner of war had his own war and his own experiences," Malcolm Breeze, an officer of the Florida Chapter of American Ex-Prisoners of War said Friday.

"It's like some guys can have a couple of beers and get drunk while others can drink half a fifth of booze and hardly even notice it. Each has to find his own way," said Breeze.

Breeze was captured and interned in a Nazi prison camp when his B17 bomber was shot down on its last mission over Germany in July 1944. He was a flight engineer.

Kenneth Dancaaster, a regional officer for the Veterans Administration in St. Petersburg who spent four months as a captive of the Germans in World War II, said people will not help the POWs by asking them questions about their treatment in captivity.

"If you're going to help this guy adjust, you aren't going to remind him of what he wants to forget," Dancaaster said.

"Being a POW is not a social experience," added Dr. Norman Spector of Miami, in advocating that the men returning from Vietnam be allowed to live in peace upon their return.

"A POW is someone who's had a confrontation with his maker and found out what it's all about," said Spector, a

Disabled vets face big aid slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is pushing to lop off millions of dollars in government benefits to disabled Vietnam-era soldiers, says the head of a House veterans' committee.

The veteran who left a leg in the Vietnam jungle, for example, could find disability benefits for his family cut from $6,740 a year to $1,272 under the plan drafted by the Veterans Administration and intended for implementation by July 1.

The plan has aroused immediate opposition from the chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., who has introduced legislation to block it. Dorn's bill also would strip the VA of its authority to alter the ratings without congressional approval.

Dorn said he understands the proposal would reduce payments to disabled veterans $160 million a year.

But a knowledgeable VA source confirmed that President Nixon's Office of Management and Budget is pushing for still deeper cuts.

The proposal, which stemmed from a five-year, $1 million Census Bureau study, revises the disability ratings which determine the monthly payments and fringe benefits due some 2.3 million disabled soldiers.

For example, the loss of a leg at the hip currently is counted as a 90 per cent disability, but drops to 40 per cent in the revised list.

In interviews Friday, officials of the committee, the VA and the American Legion confirmed the plan strikes hardest at Vietnam-era soldiers. The American Legion has protested it.

The sums paid at each level of disability are written into law and can be changed only by Congress. And because of legal restrictions similar to those governing the Social Security system, the administration cannot impound funds for disability payments.

Vietnam-era soldiers suffer the brunt of the decreases because older soldiers are protected by a law forbidding a reduction in a rating held for 20 years or longer. The 334,759 Vietnam-era soldiers current receiving disability payments won't fall into that class. Some of the 240,000 disabled Korean war veterans also may be subject to the change.

Though some categories were raised, particularly for psychiatric disabilities, the significance of the increases was disputed by the staff director of the House committee, Oliver Meadows.

"One group gets a little minor increase and the rest get the hell chopped out," said Meadows. "The younger guys are getting it in the neck."

The administration has defended the change as an effort to match government benefits more precisely with actual earnings lost because of disability. Meadows said payments even at the current level fall short of average industrial earnings.

The ratings reduction for amputees was proposed because the study found that "the muscles, the strength, the ability to move around are not so significant, as regards earnings, in a more technological society as we now are in," according to the VA source.

Soybean supply outlook tightens

By L.H. Simerl
Illinois Extension Economist

The soybean situation tightened up on Jan. 24 when the USDA reported the stocks of grains on hand at the first of the year.

The soybeans in all positions on Jan. 1 were listed at 870 million bushels — 2 per cent less than one year before and 30 to 40 million bushels less than many persons in the soybean business had expected. The result was that soybean prices went up the limit of 10 cents a bushel on the next market day.

Here are the pertinent figures. The carryover of old beans last Sept. 1 was reported at 72 million bushels, and the new crop was estimated at 1,276 million bushels. Thus, the apparent supply for the marketing year that began last Sept. 1 totaled 1,348 million bushels.

Reports filed by soybean processors indicated that they crushed 259 million bushels during the four months (September through December), while the amount exported was 183 million bushels. Subtracting these amounts from the beginning supply left 906 million bushels as the expected stocks figure for Jan. 1.

When the official compilation showed 36 million bushels less than that, soybean prices hit the ceiling. The shortfall in stocks probably was caused in part, at least, by field losses that were heavier than expected.

There are often unavoidable errors in the estimates of stocks on hand January 1, primarily because of uncertainties concerning stocks held on farms. The possibility of error was increased this year because part of the beans reported on hand by farmers were still out in the fields.

THE lower-than-expected stocks figure made a tight supply situation even tighter. It reminds us of the old question, "What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object?"

Livestock and poultry producers

here and abroad seem to insist on feeding more soybean meal than ever before. They cannot continue to do this, however, because the supply of soybeans just is not large enough to maintain crushings and exports at the rates that have prevailed during the first five months of this marketing year (September through January).

Here is the statistical situation. First, remember that processors and exporters were scraping the bottom of their bins for soybeans last August. By Sept. 1, the stocks of old beans were down to 72 million bushels — barely enough for pipeline supplies.

During the first five months of this marketing year, the amount of soybeans used and exported was about 13 per cent greater than a year before. But the amount of soybeans available for the remaining seven months appears to be about 3 per cent less than a year ago. Hence, the rates of use and export must be reduced sharply sometime before the new crop becomes available. The only "reducer" in sight is high prices.

No one knows whether soybean prices will rise or fall — or how much. But farmers who wish to hold their beans until summer can take advantage of a very unusual market situation. Prices of the July and August futures are below — far below — current cash prices.

Therefore farmers who want to hold soybeans until these months have a much better chance of making a profit, or avoiding a loss, by selling beans held on the farm or in warehouses and then buying an equal amount of July or August futures. Win or lose, the futures market will return 30 to 40 cents more than holding cash beans.

Ohio Perspective

State ag secretary urges Butz removal

By DEAN SCHOTT
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Agriculture Secretary Eugene Abercrombie says his former college teacher, U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, should be removed from office.

"I think Earl Butz should not be secretary of agriculture," said Abercrombie, "and I have a lot of company around the country, too."

"I have the feeling that a secretary of agriculture should have grassroots backing and even have callouses on his hands from farm work."

The Ohio agriculture leader said Butz has neither the grass roots support nor the callouses.

Abercrombie is a 1938 graduate of Purdue University, where Butz had been Dean of the College of Agriculture and a professor until he became agriculture secretary in early 1972.

Abercrombie claimed Butz is "too far removed" from the small, independent American farmer and too close to corporate interests, such as Ralston Purina Co. and John Deere Co. Butz served on the board of directors for the two companies, dealing in livestock feeds and tractor and farm implements.

"I don't dislike him personally," said Abercrombie, "but I do disagree with him on several points. We don't see eye-to-eye on family farming."

The Ohio secretary said the federal government has recently taken two actions that particularly hurt the small family farmer.

He said the government cut back on emergency crop loans to farmers during a time of serious need in Ohio, and has dropped the Rural Environmental Assistance Program, which aided small farmers in conserving land and natural resources.

As a result, the small family farmers is "getting kicked in the seat of his pants," said Abercrombie. "What in the hell do you do with them when they have to leave the farm? Send them to Dayton or Cleveland and put them on welfare?"

He said the small family farm should be preserved because it is the "epitome of efficiency."

"The small, independent farmer has invested his own dollars and has everything to gain. He is willing to get up before dawn and work until after dark."

"On a corporate farm with hired labor there is a lack of interest among the employees, other than for the paycheck. They would rather get up at 8 or 9 in morning than at dawn."

Abercrombie estimated that one-half of one per cent of the 110,000 farms in Ohio are corporate in nature. As a result, he said, the corporate farm has not had too much impact in the state.

The Ohio agriculture leader owns a 500-acre family corporation farm in Hamilton County.

"My farm is set up as a family corporation so I can pass it on to my three sons," he says, "It is not a conglomerate, and I do it for tax reasons only."

Northwest Ohio birds in trouble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Natural Resources Department says federal farm aid cutbacks are going to reduce bird populations in northwestern Ohio.

Department Director William B. Nye said today the federal programs that helped wildlife most were the one under which the federal government shared the cost of farm conservation measures and the grain set-aside programs.

Nye said the department was sponsoring programs in Hancock, Hardin and Wood counties under which the set-aside acreage was used for bird nesting and feeding.

Get big litters of husky pigs...Feed Purina Sow Chow

A sow is a pig factory. She has the big job of producing and nursing two litters of pigs every year.

Like any other factory, she has to have raw ingredients to produce the products (pigs) and maintain the factory (her own body). If she doesn't get proper nutrition, she may actually resorb some pigs into her system, causing you to lose pigs you will never even see; or she may farrow weak, unthrifty litters.

Purina Sow Chow has what it takes to help the sow keep her own body, farrow big litters and have plenty of milk to start them right. Purina Sow Chow is available as a supplement to your grain or as a complete sow ration.

T-Boneclub to get report on beef breeds

Dr. Randall Reed, Ohio State University extension beef specialist, will be the featured speaker for the February T-Bone meeting set for 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Rendezvous Room, according to John Gruber, county agriculture agent.

Gruber announced that Reed will speak to the group about the European beef breeds which have created much interest among U.S. cattlefeeders in recent years.

Reed was one of 25 U.S. cattlemen who toured six European countries last summer. While in Europe the group looked at several outstanding herds of Europe's best breeds.

Reed will show slides of many of the cattle he observed in Europe and will discuss the implications of these breeds for the U. S. cattle industry.

According to Gruber, the T-Bone meeting is the first in a series of activities planned by the Fayette County Cattle Feeders and the Fayette County Cooperative Extension Service. The meeting is open to all Fayette County cattlemen and other interested persons.

Most grain loans won't be resealed

Reseal loans will not be available on a number of commodities now under Commodity Credit Corp. loan in Fayette County.

"With the announcement that CCC has set a schedule for clearing out its grain now held in country elevators, it's a good time to remind farmers of that early December announcement advising that most grain loans will not be extended for reseal," said George C. Speakman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee chairman.

National and world demand for U.S. grains and soybeans has been increasing steadily since harvest, Speakman said. Since the maturity dates of CCC loans on grains are principally in May, June, and July, the early announcement that loans will not be extended has provided time for farmers to plan their marketings.

Farm storage and warehouse loans in Fayette County that will not be extended include the following commodities and crop years:

1972 warehouse-stored wheat, 1972 farm-stored wheat, 1972 warehouse-stored soybeans, 1972 farm-stored soybeans, 1972 warehouse-stored corn, 1971 warehouse-stored corn and 1971 farm-stored corn.

Maturity dates for these loans are: 1972 wheat, April 30; 1972 soybeans, June 30; 1972 corn, July 31, and 1971 corn, May 31.

Corn Club banquet set

The annual Fayette County Corn Club Banquet has been scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Mahan Hall. In announcing the banquet, Dwight Duff, chairman of the Fayette County Extension Agronomy Committee, said that awards will be presented to winners of the annual corn yield contest.

Duff indicated that unusual harvest conditions this year created problems for many of the farmers participating in the Corn Club Contest. He said that only 35 of the 52 farmers enrolled were able to complete the yield checks.

Awards will be presented by Duff to winning farmers with highest yield and highest net profit per acre. Ray Lockman, Agrico Chemical Co. will discuss the results of the soil test and corn leaf tissue analysis from the corn club plots. John Gruber, county extension agent, agriculture, will review the corn club yield and profit per acre results.

The Corn Club Contest is sponsored annually by the Agronomy Committee. Tickets for the banquet are available from directors of the Agronomy Committee or at the Fayette County Extension Office, 319 S. Fayette St.

What good is 'Muscling' in your hogs...

IF
...you don't have
MUSCLE
in your marketing?

Every hog producer knows well-muscled hogs bring more money! But inefficient marketing can rob you of any additional profit they might bring. Heinold gives you MUSCLE in marketing!

Your Heinold market not only keeps prices up in the area, but brings stability to marketing. Remember January 5, when prices fell approximately $2 to $4 overnight at the terminal markets—Omaha, St. Joseph, Peoria, Indianapolis, Atkinson. Heinold's markets from Missouri to Ohio dropped their prices an approximate 50 cents to $1.50 the same day.

If you're chasing that elusive "extreme top"—paid to one or two producers—minus all kinds of marketing charges, you won't like the Heinold method of marketing. But if you want a strong, stable market every day of the week—and a whole hog check—deliver your next load of hogs to Heinold.

The efficiency and low overhead of Heinold's 57 markets across the hog belt, selling to over 80 packer customers, gives you MUSCLE in the market.

Mr. Simerl and the former Helen Straley were married Feb. 17, 1923, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Straley, in Jeffersonville. After a short period of teaching school, they were engaged in farming until they retired in 1960.

They request no gifts. Their friends, neighbors and relatives are invited to attend.

Pledge ritual held by Phi Theta Gamma

A pledge ritual was held by candlelight for Mrs. Donny Campbell and Mrs. Garry Campbell in the home of Mrs. Randy Miller Thursday evening, with Miss Brenda Oesterle conducting the ritual. Both pledges received pins, roses and Sigma Phi books. The ritual preceded the regular meeting.

Mrs. Michael Riggilio was a guest, and announced the Sweetheart Dance for Saturday evening.

Mrs. James Bonham announced a Valentine party for the nursery children at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, beginning at 10 a.m. Wednesday, and final plans were made for the card party and style show for March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the DP&L auditorium, which will be open to the public.

Other events announced by Mrs. Miller were the Rush Party March 14, and an election of officers March 21.

Miss Oesterle will be hostess to the group at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 21 in her home.

Jerry Cremeans, game protector for Fayette County, showed a film on pollution entitled "The Gift." A white elephant sale was a feature at the closing.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Donny Campbell and Mrs. Garry Campbell, Mrs. Keith Osborne, Miss Diana Havens, Mrs. Jack Starr, Miss Pam Starr, Mrs. Bonham, Mrs. Riggilio and Mr. Cremeans by Miss Oesterle and Mrs. Miller.

Miss Patricia Robinson and her niece, Sally Robinson, both of Washington C.H., were in Delaware Friday where they were guests of Miss Loran Perrill, a student at Ohio Wesleyan University. They went especially to attend the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra concert held on the campus.

Mrs. Clarke entertains Elmwood Aid

Mrs. William Clarke welcomed the members of the Elmwood Ladies Aid Society Thursday afternoon for the February meeting. There were 22 members and one guest, Mrs. Geraldine Thompson present.

"Love" was the theme of the beautiful devotional service conducted by Mrs. Ruth Smith, who gave short excerpts on the subject followed by prayer.

Following the usual reports, Valentine favors were displayed. The cleverly designed baskets created by Mrs. Walter Parrett and Mrs. Alta Barger were to be distributed to shut-ins. Since the society provides charitable service in the community, suggestions were solicited for projects. Favored by the group was the "penny a day" idea to be conducted on a yearly basis. Also adopted was membership contribution to a special Easter fund.

Calls recorded numbered 133. Remembered with the "Happy Birthday" song was Mrs. Emily Laum.

For entertainment, the social committee conducted two contests with Mrs. Willard Moore and Mrs. Jessie Thompson as winners. Much merriment was provoked from the humorous sayings so ingeniously worked out from Valentine motto hearts.

The social committee served delicious refreshments with each cover marked with a Valentine favor. Assisting Mrs. Clarke were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Carl Meriweather and Mrs. Orville Miller.

Circleville's free throws spoil WCH's title dreams

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor
Washington C.H.'s hopes for an undisputed South Central Ohio League championship were nearly spoiled Friday night as Circleville nipped the determined Blue Lions 59-56 in a fourth quarter cardiac caper before a bulging at the seams crowd at Circleville's junior high gym.

Only one possibility remains for the scrappy Lions in hopes of grabbing an undisputed title, and that would be if they defeat intra-county rival Miami Trace and Greenfield upsets Circleville next Friday night.

The stunned Lions, who turned in a hard-fought performance and held the upper hand throughout three quarters of play, saw an eight-point cushion evaporate in the heart-throbbing fourth period as the shock-proof Tigers grabbed a slender one-point advantage with a measly 24 seconds remaining and then capped the win with a pair of free throws 13 seconds later.

WASHINGTON C.H.'S loss sent the tight SCOL sweepstakes into a three-way snarl for the top perch between the Blue Lions, Circleville and Miami Trace. All have identical 6-3 SCOL records.

Free throws, a Washington C.H. bugaboo, spelled the doom for head coach Gary Shaffer's title-hungry Blue Lions in the crucial contest. The Lions bucketed five more field goals than their Pickaway County foes (24-19), but head coach John Lawhorn's toughies held a lopsided 21-8 scoring advantage from the charity stripe.

Circleville capitalized on its free throw shooting advantage in the second half when the Tigers canned 11 of 15 free shots. The Lions, although it's hard to understand, attempted only two free throws after intermission and missed both.

On the evening, Circleville hit 21 of 32 free throws for a fine 66 per cent figure while the Lions made good on eight of only 16 chances.

Dave Truex, the husky 6-foot-0 forward, flamed Circleville to its 12th win in 16 outings as he bagged 20 points on the basis of six field goals and eight free throws.

BUT MORE importantly, the steady senior popped in nine points in the pulse-pounding fourth quarter. In fact, it was a free throw by Truex with three minutes left that handed Circleville its first lead of the game and later the hard-working ace hit two straight field goals as the Tigers erased a three-point Washington C.H. lead with 1:01 remaining and posted the late comeback-behind win.

Three other Circleville players landed double figure totals with Dan Graham's 13-point effort leading the way. Greg Hoskins and bright-eyed outside shot Robin Martin contributed 12 points each.

Versatile senior Dick Witherspoon topped a balanced Washington C.H. scoring punch with 11 points and junior frontliner Kenny Knisley hooped 10 points.

It was Knisley's clutch scorework in the third frame which kept the Lions on top. Senior smoothie Chuck Bath scored nine points before leaving with five personal fouls with 11 seconds to play, and steel-nerved senior guard Albert Donahue and sparkplug Jeff Downs added seven and six points respectively for the Lions, now 9-7 on the season.

The Lions opened with an aggressive man-to-man defense while Circleville's offensive plans were to go inside to Graham. The offense was effective as pivotman Jeff Wallace spent his third personal foul before three minutes had elapsed.

But senior playmaker Chris Shaper got the Lions rolling and at one time they had constructed an 8-1 bulge behind five points from the 5-foot-10 guard. The Tigers didn't score a field goal until 2:55 remained and Washington C.H. grabbed a 13-7 first period lead.

CIRCLEVILLE outscored the Lions 17-15 in the second frame and closed the gap to 28-24 at halftime, ven though the Lions had led by as much as 11 points early in the quarter.

Only one personal foul was whistled in the third period as the Lions fought like the dickens to stay ahead behind three clutch buckets by Knisley and some nifty inside work from Bath. The Lions outscored the Tigers 16-12 to nab a 44-36 lead heading into the fourth period.

Circleville opened a 10-point scoring spree in the opening three minutes of the last frame while the Lions could garner only one fielder to tie the score 46-46 with 5:03 showing. The Tigers then grabbed their first lead when Truex hit a free throw with three minutes left, but the Lions bounced back to take a 54-51 lead with 1:35 to go before the late scoring spurge from Truex and two insurance free throws by Hoskins.

Jan Rittenhouse, the smooth-shooting southpaw, sparked East Clinton's win with 19 points and backcourt whiz Jeff Streber popped in 18 markers.

Tom Sykes' 17-point scoring performance was tops for Logan Elm.

Rampaging MT posts sixth straight win

By ED SUMMERS

Record-Herald Staff Writer

The Miami Trace Panthers took a giant step in their quest for a SCOL championship Friday night by dominating Wilmington 74-60 behind a 29-point spree by Muff Jones.

The key to the victory was the Panthers ability to keep Wilmington's talented center, Tim Wilson, away from the bucket and off the boards. Wilson, averaging nearly 17 points per game, managed only three points and five rebounds before leaving the game with five fouls early in the fourth quarter.

Miami Trace jumped to a quick 8-2 lead in the opening minutes of play and were never headed despite a cold third quarter which saw the Hurricane outscore the Panthers 17-10 and close a 15-point halftime deficit to six points.

MUFF JONES tossed a 10 of 14 shots and added nine free throws for his 29 points. He also led the Panthers in rebounding with 11 followed by brother Pete with eight and Cottrill with 6. Cottrill added 14 markers to the Panther cause and along with Dave Persinger kept the 6-3, 230-pound Wilson off the boards.

Brad Halley and Robert Raizk led Wilmington with 19 and 18 points respectively, both hitting consistently from outside.

Both teams started off cautiously with the Panthers drawing first blood on a Muff Jones tipin of a missed shot. Bill McClary tied the game at 2-2 a minute later, but Miami Trace poured in three straight buckets to open an 8-2 lead with 4:12 remaining, and held a 16-7 margin at the buzzer.

Muff Jones pumped in 10 points in the quarter to pace the Panthers.

Wilmington was unable to crack the Panthers tough man to man defense in the second quarter and fell behind 27-17 with 4:09 showing on the clock. Wilson picked up his third foul seconds later and was removed from the contest. The Hurricane was then held scoreless for

Ron Lyle in 12 rounds

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Quarry's message put him back into the heavyweight picture and left Ron Lyle pondering what the fight game holds for a 31-year-old who still must prove himself.

"I told you that would make a difference when he walked out there and found out that he could be hurt," said Quarry after he handed Lyle his first defeat in 20 pro fights by pounding out a unanimous decision in a 12-round heavyweight fight at Madison Square Garden.

Olympics committee still has problems

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee had a new and younger look today, but could not shake the shadow that has dogged it for more than a decade—the war with the nation's major colleges.

"I am not optimistic about reaching an accord with the National Collegiate Athletic Association," said USOC President Philip O. Krumm of Kenosha, Wis. "We have made overtures to them and they have not responded.

It was the fourth win in nine SCOL outings for young head coach Robert Ream's Hillsboro bunch, while Greenfield absorbed its ninth consecutive league setback.

Hillsboro jumped to a 14-11 first period and stretched the lead to 33-24 at intermission. In the third quarter, the Indians were outscored 16-12 as Greenfield chopped the gap to 45-40, but Ream's boys capped the win with a 25-point fourth quarter eruption.

Cryosurgery for Cancer

Cryosurgery is a specialized technique for the removal of malignant (cancerous) and benign (non-cancerous) growths.

Liquid nitrogen is circulated through a variety of ingeniously created instruments and, when applied to tissue, destroys it.

The liquid nitrogen, lowered to hundreds of degrees below zero, can have its penetrating effect controlled by brilliantly conceived engineering devices.

Dr. William G. Cahan, of the Memorial Hospital for Cancer and allied diseases in New York City, is one of our nation's leading proponents of the freezing technique in carefully selected cases. Dr. Cahan and his co-workers are carrying on extensive experimental studies on the use of cryosurgery for growths of the larynx, the uterus, the prostate and the breast.

The results are encouraging, and the discerning statistics offer great promise that this method may be a valuable addition to all others now in active use. The eventual answer to cancer lies in the dedicated efforts of such scientists.

It has generally been thought that people with chronic, long-standing coughs, chronic bronchitis, and changes in the lung tissue are forever condemned to an irreversible condition.

Only recently, Dr. John T. Sharp, professor of medicine at the University of Illinois, completed a most interesting study on people with persistent respiratory symptoms. The evidence indicates there was still hope that chronic lung conditions and the symptoms that go with this could still be controlled.

The best chance these patients have to stop the progression of the chronic lung condition is to stop smoking completely and absolutely. In addition, it is imperative that the general level of health be maintained with excellent nutrition, vitamin supplements, carefully prescribed exercise, weight control and early treatment of even simple upper respiratory infections.

The former sense of hopelessness about chronic lung conditions can be modified in many cases if these health-care axioms are observed.

ULTRASOUND is now being applied to medicine.

A beam of sound is sent out and responding echoes are then recorded. This method is being tried in obstetrics to locate the exact position of the placenta deep within the uterus.

A photographic record of the placenta and where it is attached to the inside wall of the womb, is thus obtained.

These echograms can be of tremendous importance in unusual situations where the life of the unborn child is threatened. Unusual conditions can be anticipated and plans made for the greater safety of the child and the mother.

Plant blast fatal to 2

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Firemen and officials of the Dinner Bell Packing Co. here are continuing their investigation into the cause of an explosion that killed two men at the company's sewage treatment building Friday.

Two of the company's employees, John Calvert, 35, of New Carlisle and Hugh Wheat, 67, of Troy, were killed in the blast. Officials of the packing company said the two men were flushing out a sewage pipe with water at the time of the explosion.

A faulty gas heater in the basement of the building has tentatively been blamed for leveling the 20-by-20 foot, one-story structure.

Animal sewage from the packing operation was treated in the building before it entered the nearby Miami River. Officials of the company say they plan to connect the plant's sewage pipes to those of Troy in order to continue sewage treatment operations.

Three factories in Washington, Mo., account for most of the corn cob pipes used in the world. One factory makes over 10 million pipes annually from specially grown white corn.

Farm machinery, tools stolen; loss is heavy

Five reports of thefts were investigated by city police and the Fayette County Sheriff's Department. One incident involved the theft of farm machinery valued at $1,442.50.

Loren Noble reported to the sheriff's department Friday that a gravity bed wagon and a combine chopper and spreader were taken within the past three weeks from Greenline Equipment, U.S. 22-E. The wagon was parked in a field east of the business building, and the chopper-spreader was taken from along side the main building. The report was investigated by Deputy Sheriff D.J. Krupla.

Darrell Williams reported the theft of a power saw to the Sheriff's Department. Williams, according to the report, told deputies that the saw was being used at the Clarence Woods home on the Pisgah Road Thursday and was missing from the front porch when the worker returned on Friday. The saw was valued at $100.

SEVERAL hand tools were taken from a barn on Cisco Road either Thursday or Friday, according to a report made to the Sheriff's Department Friday afternoon by Elmer B. Hager. Missing were several wrenches, hammers, tool boxes and pliers valued at $285 and a chain saw valued at $160. According to Deputy Krupla, the thief entered the open door of the barn and took the tools which were on and around a work bench.

Several quarters in a jar at the home of Michael Barker, 811 McLean St., were taken between 7:15 p.m. and 11 p.m. Thursday, according to Police Sgt. Charles M. Long. Barker reported the incident to police at 12:25 p.m. Friday.

A pipe wrench and screwdriver were used on the rear door of the Barker home to gain entry, according to police.

A fire extinguisher taken from a school bus parked at the Bloomingburg School was recovered by Krupla Friday afternoon. Cecil Harris, bus driver, reported the theft to the Sheriff's Department. The extinguisher had been discharged beside a storage shed behind the school.

Phosphate ban said working

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's ban on phosphates in detergents and other cleaning products appears to have reduced by two-thirds the amount of phosphorous being dumped in area rivers and streams, court testimony shows.

In a continuing battle over the legality, and a more subtle controversy over the advisability, of banning phosphates, Dr. Cecil Lue-Hing introduced evidence in U. S. District Court showing that 6.54 tons of phosphorous are discharged daily from the sewerage system as opposed to 20.20 tons during a testing period prior to the ban.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The National Weather Service's summary of Ohio weather:

Cold weather continues over Ohio. There were a few snow flurries in the northern counties during the night but amounts were only traces. Just before daybreak temperatures ranged from 6 degrees at Canton and Akron to 17 at Cincinnati.

On the early morning weather map a weak cold front extended from Quebec to central lower Michigan to northern Illinois. The front will move southeastward across Ohio today accompanied by a few snow flurries and some flurries may linger into the evening in the extreme north and the northeast. Following the front a ridge of high pressure will move over the state.

OHIO—Extended outlook Monday through Wednesday: a chance of showers Tuesday or Wednesday. Highs in the 40s. Lows in the 20s Monday and in the 30s Tuesday and Wednesday.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

A funeral director must be depended upon to offer sound advice and suggestions to safe-guard a bereaved family against unnecessary or extravagant expenditures. The desire of every family to perform a final act of love and tribute should not mean a financial burden to the survivors for years to come.

Respectfully,
